

A New Camera Club coming to Danescourt starting September 2013

Last Updated Wednesday, 04 September 2013 20:20

- A relaxed & friendly atmosphere
- A chance to spend time with like minded people
- Share ideas about photography hints, tips and experience, no matter how much or how little you know about it
- Take part in Club Competitions
- Help plan and enjoy day trips at different locations to photograph landscapes, people and architecture
- A chance to work with “real life models” male and female that are willing to pose for you using studio lighting, light meters & backdrops
- Learn more or discover what F-Stops are, what shutter speeds to use, what ISO can do for your photography and many more ideas.
- Take part in our New Blog Site, leaving your feedback on Club Members' Photography

Steve has been a photography enthusiast for over 10 years and has been commissioned to photograph many Weddings, Corporate and Private Events, along with producing images for local businesses to advertise their products or services.

Sharing ideas, skills and showing your photographs to people are the best way to get positive, constructive feedback, which will make you a better photographer, as a hobbyist or to hopefully start a new career.

We will be meeting on every 4th Monday evening in the St John's Church Hall in Danescourt, Llandaff, starting at 8pm until 9.30pm.

Just £3.00 per person, to cover the cost of the Hall Hire. Free Membership, until January 2014.

We are having our first Camera Club meeting on 23rd September. There will be a very basic introduction to digital photography, there will be samples of work, portfolios, and albums to look through, along with a few cameras to have a look at. If you are interested, please come along for an informal chat about the club, future meetings and much more.
